FROM THE PRESIDENT > TIM MEAD

“The National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum reopened its doors.”

After a pause of more than 100 days, those simple words led off our press release on June 26, welcoming fans back to baseball’s home.

Opening our doors again gave me tremendous hope and a deeper appreciation for the dedication of the team we have in Cooperstown.

In my 40 years serving in the front office with the Angels, I had the opportunity to be a part of many teams that faced challenges on and off the field.

Take the 2002 season. After starting 6-14, it looked like the makings of another year that would fall short of playoff baseball – an occurrence that happened each of the 15 seasons prior.

But 2002 was different. Very different.

The group of veterans and newcomers banded together and persevered through the ups and downs of a long season. They got themselves out of the early-season hole and went on to win 99 games and capture the Wild Card. Things didn’t get any easier during the Postseason as the team faced obstacle after obstacle, including a late-inning come-from-behind win in Game 6 of the World Series. Disneyland wasn’t the only place for magic in Anaheim. The Angels made an improbable comeback and the rest was history after a victorious Game 7.

The historic moments and magic of baseball is relived in Cooperstown every day.

Since joining the Hall of Fame team in July 2019, I have witnessed first-hand the commitment, day-in and day-out, to Preserving History, Honoring Excellence and Connecting Generations.

However, much like the 2002 World Series champion Angels, the team in Cooperstown had to persevere through the unknowns of a challenging year.

This special Donor Edition of Memories and Dreams is a review of our ongoing work, through the unprecedented challenges of 2020, as we continued telling the game’s stories, preserving its history and celebrating its greatness – and we could not have done it without you.

So let me pause to say thank you for your dedication and for being part of our team.

Preserving History

Each item preserved and cared for throughout the Museum and Library’s vast collections helps us rekindle our fondest memories.

The stories behind each treasured bat, ball, glove and uniform not only teach us about the game’s history, but connect us to special moments we have experienced as baseball fans.

Earlier this year, as the majestic Plaque Gallery and the rest of the Museum remained empty, our team was faced with the challenge of how to continue to bring fans the stories of baseball history and its all-time greats.

We rallied as a team and shifted from an in-Museum focus to a full lineup of Safe at Home virtual experiences through our web content, social media channels, virtual programs and educational activities.

We connected with Members, donors and fans from around the country through online programs like our Curator Spotlight series, which provides a virtual exhibit tour and an inside look at how stories in the Museum are told.

Our role as the caretakers of the game’s history includes preserving, conserving, digitizing, documenting, securing, celebrating, storytelling and more – even during a pandemic.

Thank you – to all the Members and donors – who ensure that the treasures in Cooperstown are always preserved and can be enjoyed by all, even from afar.

Honoring Excellence

Excellence. If I were to quickly define what this means to a young fan – say to my grandson – I would simply say: Greatness, or the very best.

That is what the 333 players, managers, executives and umpires honored in Cooperstown represent. These all-time greats will forever be immortalized on the oak walls of the Hall of Fame Plaque Gallery, and the impact of these legends transcends the ballfield. Hall of Famers like Lou Gehrig, Jackie Robinson and Roberto Clemente left an indelible mark on our nation’s history. Their character, courage and integrity demonstrated on and off the field inspire us all.

And through the disappointment we all shared in having to cancel the 2020 Induction Ceremony, our team took the opportunity to bring a few of the all-time greats to you.

Through a series of Virtual Voices of the Game events, we connected fans around the globe to special guests like Class of 2020 members Derek Jeter, Ted Simmons and Larry Walker.

With your continued support, we will continue to inspire fans of all ages to pursue greatness.

Connecting Generations

Perhaps the extra time at home that most of us experienced gave you the opportunity to play catch more often with your son or daughter, or your grandchildren.

Baseball has a way of bringing generations together – even in the midst of uncertain times.

As we moved toward reopening, our team took on the task of compiling a comprehensive health and safety plan. Our efforts were exhaustive and focused on what was best for our visitors, our staff and our community.

When we were able to welcome families back to the Museum, I witnessed the little things that brought joy to our visitors and staff: The interactions between a mother and daughter in our Diamond Dreams: Women in Baseball exhibit, and the grandfather sharing stories about Teddy Ballgame in the Plaque Gallery.

As you can see, the work to fulfill our mission can’t happen without you. So on behalf of our entire team in Cooperstown, thank you for your generosity.

We appreciate all you do for the Museum. 🍎

Home of Baseball

Since 1939, Cooperstown has been the place for fans to celebrate the Game's history.

Well beyond the world of sports, the word "Cooperstown" stands for excellence. The idyllic village in Central New York is the dream destination for anyone who has ever put on a baseball glove. As the spiritual home of our National Pastime since the Hall of Fame opened its doors in 1939, Cooperstown is synonymous with baseball.

Baseball – the great game that we all love so much.

But baseball is more than just a game. It's a family experience that connects generations. It's an American tradition that holds a special place in the hearts and minds of fans, young and old. It's the stories that donors and Members like you fondly share about their visits to Cooperstown, sometimes from decades ago.

The memories of seeing a Babe Ruth bat, taking a photo of Roberto Clement's plaque, watching Carlton Fisk wave his home run fair in the Whole New Ball Game exhibit and the feelings evoked when seeing "their guy" and celebrating his induction into the Hall of Fame.

It's the relationships forged, stories shared, cherished memories created. That's baseball. And that is why the team at the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum is here in Cooperstown working every day to preserve baseball history.

Our mission

The National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum is a nonprofit dedicated to fostering an appreciation of the history of baseball and its impact on our culture by collecting, preserving, exhibiting and interpreting our collections for a global audience, as well as honoring those who have made outstanding contributions to our National Pastime.

In short, we Preserve History, Honor Excellence and Connect Generations. These six words define our commitment to giving fans a home to celebrate the game they love, relive the greatest moments in baseball history and honor the all-time greats. 🏆

THE ULTIMATE COLLECTION

THE HALL OF FAME HOUSES AND PRESERVES OUR NATIONAL PASTIME'S MOST CHERISHED ITEMS.

The National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum's collection holds priceless treasures from baseball's past that bring our memories to life. Over the past 81 years, we have built and maintained the world's largest and most comprehensive baseball collection, and with your support, we will continue to collect and preserve artifacts documenting the history of our National Pastime.

DOCUMENTING HISTORY

Players, teams, Major League Baseball and fans continue to be generous in donating important historic relics to Cooperstown. We annually acquire between 300 and 400 artifacts, some very old and some very new, as history happens every day. A few examples include:

- The "Green Light Letter" written by President Franklin Roosevelt to Commissioner Kennesaw Mountain Landis to encourage the playing of baseball during World War II to improve national morale

Among the thousands of items in the Museum's collection is a jersey worn by Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson.

- A bat used by Babe Ruth of the New York Yankees at the Polo Grounds, Sept. 26, 1921, to hit his 57th and 58th home runs of the season
- The cap worn by Roberto Clemente when he recorded his 3,000th and final hit
- Hank Aaron's Presidential Medal of Freedom
- A game-used jersey worn by Jackie Robinson, who broke the MLB color barrier in 1947, making baseball one of the first facets of American life to be integrated

- A political cartoon by Currier and Ives featuring Abraham Lincoln, from the 1860 presidential election, using baseball terminology to explain the candidates' political positions
- Tunic worn by pitcher/shortstop Rita "Slats" Meyer Moellering of the AAGPBL's Peoria Redwings from 1946-1949
- St. Louis Browns home jersey worn by Satchel Paige in 1952

Every item in our collection has been donated, but there is a significant cost associated with conserving, preserving, cataloging, photographing, digitizing, researching and caring for each piece.

Sharing our collection

We loan items from our collection to other museums and cultural institutions to boost their exhibit programs and extend our reach beyond Cooperstown, including:

- Empire State Development, Division of Tourism
- Ivan Allen Jr. Braves Museum
- Kansas City Royals Hall of Fame
- Little League International
- New York Mets
- St. Louis Cardinals Hall of Fame and Museum
- The State Museum of Pennsylvania

ARTIFACT PRESERVATION

Our Museum in Action

This popular Memories and Dreams and online feature highlights how contributions of all sizes have a significant impact on preserving history. The program has raised more than $250,000 to fund the digital preservation of nearly 22,000 historic photographs, hundreds of Library documents and the conservation of 37 artifacts – ranging from baseball cards to tunics worn by members of the All-American Girls Professional Baseball League.

The work to care for, conserve and preserve the one-of-a-kind treasures in our collection never ceases.

See what we have done together and explore additional projects, including artifacts, photographs and Library documents that are in need of conservation and preservation, by visiting baseballhall.org/museuminaction.

Digital preservation

The National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum has a vast digital collection that fans and researchers around the globe can explore. Highlights include Oral Histories, Museum Objects, Negro Leagues, Women in Baseball and Hall of Famer collections.

Through our ongoing digital preservation project, the Museum Collection and Library Archive housed in Cooperstown is accessible to fans everywhere today and for future generations.

Visit the online collection to discover, research and relive baseball history at collection.baseballhall.org.

Since launching in 2016, the ever-growing digital collection now features: 25,000 books and publications, 20,250 photographs, 10,500 Library documents, 4,500 three-dimensional artifacts and 225 oral histories.

But our work is not done.

Sponsor a Page

Once an item in the Museum Collection or Library Archive has been digitally preserved and uploaded to the online database, the costs to store and make these images available continue in perpetuity.

Ongoing costs include data storage, internet service and servers, plus ongoing development and maintenance of the digital asset management software.

To help cover these ongoing costs to maintain the free online database, we launched the opportunity to Sponsor a Page of an item from the Hall of Fame collection. The pages available for you to sponsor cover a broad range of topics and interests, and more are added on a regular basis.

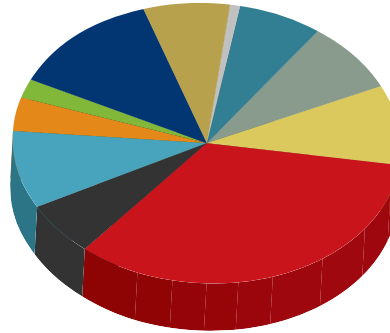

You can also learn more about how you can have your name and a message displayed on an artifact page within our online collection by visiting baseballhall.org/sponsorapage.

THE GREATEST TEAM EVER

ENSHRINEMENT IN COOPERSTOWN IS RESERVED FOR THE GAME'S BEST OF THE BEST.

More than 275,000 fans have taken the emotional journey to Cooperstown for the Induction Ceremony since 2014 to welcome the newest members of the Hall of Fame and to salute the 50-plus Hall of Famers who return each year for Hall of Fame Weekend.

Earning election to the National Baseball Hall of Fame is one of the greatest honors in all of sports, and is reserved for those few who truly graced the game through their remarkable achievements. Nearly 20,000 players have worn a major league uniform since the founding of the National League in 1876. Only a little more than one percent have achieved baseball's highest honor: Election to the Baseball Hall of Fame.

The roster of 333 inductees includes 235 former major league players, 35 Negro Leaguers, 31 executives, 22 managers and 10 umpires. Most recently joining that distinguished list were the four members of the Class of 2020: Ted Simmons, Derek Jeter, Larry Walker (pictured below, left to right) and the late Marvin Miller. They will be inducted, along with anyone elected as part of the Class of 2021, on Sunday, July 25, in Cooperstown.

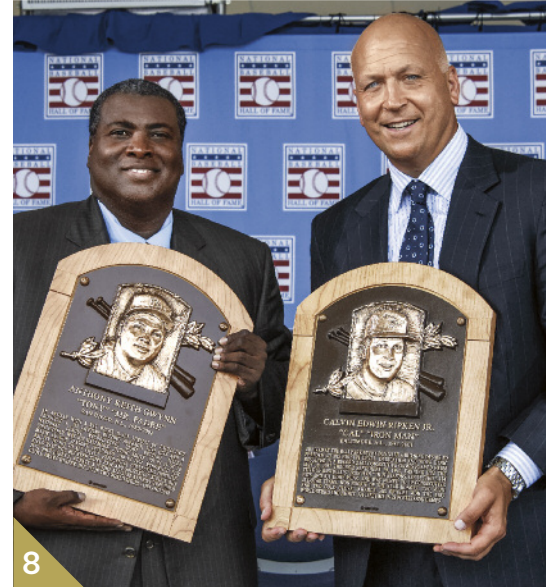

Cooperstown is the place where our memories of the game's all-time greats are preserved. Their stories of dedication, hard work and perseverance continue to inspire generations of fans. 🏆

HALL OF FAME WEEKEND THROUGH THE DECADES

1. 1930s All of the Hall of Fame's living members (except Ty Cobb) were present for a photograph on June 12, 1939, in Cooperstown to commemorate the opening of the Hall of Fame and the first Induction Ceremony.

3. 1950s The Hall of Fame's membership grew to 81 on July 23, 1956, when Joe Cronin (left) and Hank Greenberg (right) were inducted under cloudy skies on the front steps of the Hall of Fame and Museum.

4. 1960s First-ballot Hall of Famers Jackie Robinson and Bob Feller were enshrined along with Veterans Committee selections Edd Roush and Bill McKechnie on July 23, 1962. The Hall of Fame's membership reached 90 in a 38-minute ceremony before an audience of more than 10,000 fans.

5. 1970s The Class of 1972, featuring (clockwise from top right) Lefty Gomez, Early Wynn, Buck Leonard, Yogi Berra and Sandy Koufax, show off images of their new plaques with Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who would join them in Cooperstown in 2008. Negro Leagues star Josh Gibson, former American League president Will Harridge and Ross Youngs were inducted posthumously.

7. 1990s In their first appearances on the ballot, pitcher Jim Palmer and second baseman Joe Morgan (shown with his plaque) were elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame and inducted on Aug. 6, 1990.

8. 2000s The largest crowd to attend a Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony gathered in 2007 when an estimated 82,000 fans filled the grounds of the Clark Sports Center to see the enshrinement of Tony Gwynn (left) and Cal Ripken Jr. (right). Fifty-three living Hall of Famers returned to Cooperstown to welcome the new inductees.

9. 2010s An estimated crowd of 48,000 fans jammed Cooperstown to watch the induction of the Class of 2014, which featured six living Hall of Famers – the most living electees in one year since 1971. # EXPERIENCE HISTORY TOGETHER

VISIT US – IN COOPERSTOWN AND ONLINE – TO SEE ALL THAT’S HAPPENING AT THE MUSEUM.

On Main Street in the heart of picturesque Cooperstown, New York, the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum is one of the country’s most popular destinations. What started as a one-room museum in 1939 has grown into a state-of-the-art, 50,000-square-foot history museum dedicated to baseball and its impact on American culture.

While Museum attendance has been significantly impacted by the pandemic, the number of fans who are reliving their favorite baseball memories through our online content and virtual programs has never been higher. For fans of all ages, the Hall of Fame and Museum is an iconic institution. It’s where generations come together, in-person or online, to relive the history of the game.

As MLB celebrated the centennial of the founding of the Negro National League, CC Sabathia (right) paid tribute to Negro Leagues baseball during a Virtual Voices of the Game program in August 2020 with the Hall of Fame’s Bruce Markusen.

THE MUSEUM ONLINE

The Museum website (baseballhall.org) and social media channels have always offered an in-depth look at the Hall of Famers and a detailed view of baseball history through stories, videos, artifact images and historic photographs.

When the pandemic forced us to close the Museum, we launched the Safe at Home initiative, focusing even more of our attention on our online resources and virtual events.

The Safe at Home initiative brought together online resources that were already available at baseballhall.org, added additional content and included the launch of a new series of virtual programs.

Safe at Home includes:

- Free downloadable education curriculum – Free lesson plans that use baseball to teach math, science, social studies and the arts are available for students from grades 3-12. All lesson plans are aligned with Next Generation Learning Standards for Mathematics and Language Arts.
- Digital Collections – The Museum has a vast array of digital collections, highlighted by: Oral Histories, Museum Objects, Negro Leagues, Women in Baseball and Hall of Famer collections.
- Kids Activity Downloads – Free printable kids activities to complete at home include coloring sheets, baseball bingo and a Hall of Famer word search. We’ve also published recommended reading lists that will appeal to students of all grade levels.
- Virtual Programs – We are offering programs through live online events. Archived versions of these programs can be viewed on the Museum’s YouTube channel. We are currently offering three virtual programming tracks:

- Curator Spotlights focus on the Museum’s exhibits and are led by a member of our education staff and a curator. These programs provide a virtual tour of the exhibit and an inside look at how stories in the Museum are told. Programs also cover the process used to acquire and preserve artifacts.

- Virtual Field Trips focus on the Museum's education curriculum. Each program uses baseball as the lens for learning. Programs include Civil Rights, History and Geometry, Women's History, Geography and Statistics.
- Virtual Voices of the Game feature Hall of Famers and other well-known members of the baseball community discussing their careers and current events. Guests have included Dave Winfield, Larry Walker, Fergie Jenkins, Ted Simmons, Paul Molitor, Robin Yount, Derek Jeter, Mariano Rivera, Joe Torre, Dennis Eckersley, Alan Trammell, Jim Thome, baseball historian Curt Smith, J.G. Taylor Spink Award winner Jayson Stark, MLB Network personality Brian Kenny and CC Sabathia.

The Safe at Home web resources and virtual events have been made possible in part by a major grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. baseballhall.org/safeathome

THE MUSEUM

SAFETY FIRST

After a pause of almost 15 weeks due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Museum reopened its doors on June 26, 2020, as part of New York State's phased reopening plan.

A comprehensive health and safety plan was developed in accordance with guidelines provided by the Centers for Disease Controls and New York State, and reviewed by a certified Industrial Hygiene Technician, to ensure cleanliness, physical distancing and reduced contact.

Per New York State guidelines, the use of face masks for all staff and guests is required. Each guest receives a stylus to use when interacting with touch-screens and buttons, and directional markers have been added along with signage reminding visitors of safety procedures. More than 25 hand sanitizing stations have also been placed throughout the Museum.

Increased cleaning and disinfection is taking place both within Museum spaces and office areas, while protective clear acrylic shields have been installed at the Museum admission desk and at check-out counters within the Museum Store. All employees are given a health screening assessment and temperature check each day prior to entering the Museum.

STARTING NINE

In 2020, the Museum introduced the Hall of Fame Starting Nine, a scavenger hunt built for the ultimate baseball fan. We "challenge" fans to find their team's Starting Nine: A lineup of must-see items from our vast collection containing tens of thousands of artifacts that preserve the magical moments and memorable stories of our National Pastime.

Our curators spent countless hours hand-picking special objects from every major league team to create a lineup of pieces Museum visitors won't want to miss!

The Hall of Fame Starting Nine is just an introduction to all the awe-inspiring artifacts that await Museum visitors. This initiative gives fans a chance to relive treasured memories and dive into their favorite team's history.

Learn more about this initiative and explore your favorite team's Starting Nine at baseballhall.org/nine.

INDUCTEE EXHIBIT

Shortly after reopening the Museum, we opened the 2020 Inductee Exhibit, commemorating the Hall of Fame Class of 2020, who will be formally inducted during Hall of Fame Weekend 2021. The exhibit tells the stories of the legendary careers of Derek Jeter, Marvin Miller, Ted Simmons and Larry Walker.

Some highlights of the Class of 2020 exhibit include:

- The Yankees helmet Derek Jeter wore when he recorded his 3,000th career hit on July 9, 2011
- A timeline of Marvin Miller's career as the executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association
- Ted Simmons' 1982 American League championship ring won as a member of the Brewers
- A Rockies jersey worn by Larry Walker in 1998 when he led the National League with a .363 batting average

THANK YOU

Thanks to your support, during one of the most challenging years in recent history, our team continues to enhance the Museum experience in Cooperstown and online with new exhibits, content and programs. 🙏

SECURING THE FUTURE

TOGETHER WE CAN PRESERVE HISTORY,
HONOR EXCELLENCE AND CONNECT GENERATIONS.

For those of us who love baseball, the game plays an important role in our lives. Unfortunately, this year has been challenging in so many respects. Our excitement for baseball at all levels this spring quickly transformed into something that no one could have foreseen. Not only were ball diamonds from Little League to the majors empty, but both of the Museum's cornerstone events were canceled. Additionally, the Museum had to close its doors for months for the safety of our community, staff and guests. But our work to tell the game's stories and preserve its history never paused, nor did the costs associated with preserving and caring for our Museum and Library collections. In the absence of visitors and school field trips, we redoubled our efforts to make the game's history available online through social media, web content and virtual events.

While these efforts have been incredibly popular, they have not provided the revenue that is normally generated during the summer season through admission fees and retail sales, all of which go to directly fund and support the fulfillment of our mission.

That is why we need your help, now more than ever.

WHAT YOU CAN HELP US DO

We approach our responsibility to secure and share the history of our National Pastime with great passion and pride. We know you do, too, as evidenced by your generous support. The core of this support comes from our faithful Museum Members and Donors.

Here are ways to stay involved and be part of preserving baseball history:

Museum membership

Since the program started in 1979, fans have been proud to be Members of the Baseball Hall of Fame. Tens of thousands of fans from all 50 states and 20 other countries participate in the program each year. Renew, join or give the gift of membership at baseballhall.org/join.

Donations of cash or securities

Thousands of donors each year help ensure baseball fans will always be able to relive the history of the game we all love. Each and every gift has a tremendous impact today and for future generations of fans. These gifts can be made to support the Museum's most pressing needs, or designated to a project or activity that you are most interested in.

Monthly giving

Becoming a monthly donor is easy, secure and convenient. Your recurring gift – of any amount – will help sustain the Museum through this challenging year and into the future. Learn more about monthly giving by visiting baseballhall.org/monthlygiving.

Our Museum in Action

Champions

This group of highly engaged supporters, who number more than 100 strong, make annual contributions totaling $5,000 or more. When you become a Champion, you have the opportunity to enjoy exclusive experiences with Hall of Famers in Cooperstown and around the country. programs, and protect the Museum from unforeseen challenges like the one we all faced in 2020.

With 100 percent participation from the Hall of Fame Board of Directors, a generous gift from Major League Baseball on behalf of all 30 teams and gifts from individual supporters, we have raised nearly $27 million toward our goal of $30 million. Endowment gifts of $50,000 or more are permanently recognized in the Museum Lobby and may be pledged over up to five years.

BE A PART OF SOMETHING GREATER

As you can see by the successes outlined in this special Donor Issue of Memories & Dreams, we have accomplished so much thanks to your support, but there is more to be done.

You can make a difference and ensure that the treasures in Cooperstown are preserved forever.

That is why your support is so important. Your continued support is critical to:

- Caring for and preserving the artifacts within our collection
- Ensuring a world-class museum experience in Cooperstown and online
- Securing the future of the institution for generations of fans to come Together we can Preserve History, Honor Excellence and Connect Generations.

Legacy giving

At the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum, we are committed to preserving our National Pastime for generations to come. One way that you can ensure a world-class museum experience for the next generation of passionate baseball fans is to consider a legacy gift as part of your estate planning. Estate gifts leave a lasting legacy for you and help ensure that the memories and priceless artifacts of the game you love live on for future generations to enjoy. Learn more at baseballhall.org/legacygift.

Endowment

Since opening its doors in 1939, the Hall has been well-managed and operated on a break-even basis. Unlike other institutions of its stature, however, it has operated without the security of a significant endowment.

An endowment of $30 million or more will allow the Museum to keep pace with advancements in exhibition and conservation technology, assuring our priceless collections are always well-preserved, provide for growth in historical research and youth

THE CAMPAIGN TO PRESERVE OUR NATIONAL PASTIME

The National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum is grateful to be approaching our goal of building a $30 million endowment that preserves and builds upon the vision set by those who established this American treasure in Cooperstown. This campaign is our opportunity to secure the future of the organization.

Once fully funded, this significant endowment will allow the Museum to keep pace with advancements in exhibition and conservation technology, assuring our priceless collections are always well-preserved and provide for growth in historical research and youth programs.

We express our thanks to the individuals and corporations who have made contributions – nearly $27 million toward our $30 million goal – to The Campaign to Preserve Our National Pastime to ensure that the rich history of baseball is preserved for future generations.

MEMBER ANNIVERSARIES

As a nonprofit organization, the Hall of Fame depends on the support of members and donors like you to help us preserve history, honor excellence and connect generations. We thank each and every one of you - those celebrating an anniversary of 10 years or more and those new to the team - for your generous support as a member. Launched in 1979, the program provides members exclusive benefits in Cooperstown and at home. We extend a special thanks to our original members, listed in the "40+ Years" group.

We look forward to having you on the Hall of Fame team for many years to come.

These individuals have continuously supported the Hall of Fame for 10 years or more:

MAGIC TIME

Supporting the Hall of Fame ensures special moments will endure in Cooperstown.

BY JIM THOME

The Hall of Fame is about connections – the connections that baseball has given all of us. We share that together, Hall of Famers and fans alike. That’s what’s magical about it.

My love for the Hall of Fame started long before I was elected. I love the history and stories of the game, and when I hit my 500th career home run in 2007, it dawned on me that this was a chance for me and my dad to make our first visit to the Hall and donate the ball from that home run. Having Dad alive at the time – and where he was in his life – it was just a no-brainer to want to bring him to Cooperstown.

Then, once we contacted the Hall of Fame about arranging the visit in 2008, the staff at the Museum were so grateful and generous. They went out of their way to share little things about history that I would have never known had I not experienced it in Cooperstown.

Like many fans, my family instilled in me a love for the game. I grew up in the Midwest, and WGN-TV Channel 9 was on all the time. So we’d come home from school, turn on the TV and the Cubs were on. That’s how we learned to love the game, and that love never went away.

You play the game as a kid, you play in Little League and then you play in high school. And if you’re fortunate, you play in college, get drafted and get to the major leagues. Just to be a part of that is incredible. And then for me, at the end, you get to go to a place – Cooperstown – where all the memories live and more are created. It’s truly humbling.

That’s why I wanted my son, Landon, to experience what my father and I did. So with my 600th home run ball, Landon delivered it to the Hall of Fame at the Hall of Fame Classic in 2014. To stand on Doubleday Field and watch that – to share that – you just feel so lucky and blessed.

As a player, you live in the moment. You have moments early in your career, midway and toward the end. And if you’re lucky and fortunate and blessed to go to the Hall of Fame, you have that moment after baseball.

That first year when I was elected in 2018, it’s such a whirlwind. Your emotions are running crazy, you’ve got your family and friends with you and you’re just trying to focus on what is happening. But the second year is the most fun. Then you’re a Hall of Famer, and you realize that you’re in the greatest fraternity there is and you get to share that experience with others.

I look forward to many, many more Induction Weekends. Every time you go to Cooperstown – for a player or a fan – you experience something you never forget. Like sitting on the back porch at the Otesaga Hotel, looking out over the lake. One minute, you’re just relaxing. The next, out walk all these players you’ve admired for years. And you get to talk to them. Then you go back to your room and say: “Gosh, I can’t believe I just had that conversation with Johnny Bench and Sandy Koufax. Did that really happen?”

For me, that’s why you want to give back. You want others to have that feeling, too. And they can – every time they visit. You drive into Cooperstown and you feel like time has stopped. Every time you go back, there’s something new that stands out.

That’s why you want to make sure this place is here forever. 🍎

Landon Thome shares a high five with Hall of Fame Chairman of the Board Jane Forbes Clark at the 2014 Hall of Fame Classic at Doubleday Field. Landon presented the ball his father, Hall of Famer Jim Thome, hit for his 600th career home run. From left, former Hall of Fame President Jeff Idelson and Jim Thome look on.

The Sandlot Kid, a Cooperstown landmark now in a new location at Doubleday Field, is ready to welcome visitors. The statue represents our link to the game from childhood through the present day – a connection celebrated every day at the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum.
